MOTOTRBO™ CARRY ACCESSORIES

BUYER'S GUIDE

MOTOROLA SOLUTIONS

QUICK ACCESS, PROTECTION FROM DROPS AND KNOCKS, AND COMFORTABLE WEAR ARE ALL CRITICAL REQUIREMENTS FOR RADIO USERS WORKING IN YOUR MOST CRITICAL ROLES.

To keep your radio protected and accessible, Motorola Solutions has a wide range of carry accessories that will help your team keep in touch while keeping their best method of communication protected.

With over 90 years of radio manufacturing experience, millions of devices worldwide, teams of trained engineers, and ISO-certified facilities, we are able to offer a comprehensive range of carry solutions that work for every member of your team.

TYPES OF CARRY ACCESSORY

STRAP

Straps come as either short straps that connect the radio to the user's wrist or longer straps for hanging the radio from the shoulder or neck. Straps provide a simple way to avoid dropping radios while also providing a quick way to remove devices from the body.

CARRY CASES

Carry cases provide a convenient way to store radios for any user. With a carry case, radios have an extra level of protection against knocks, bumps, scratches, and drops. Some carry cases allow accessories to remain connected to the radio, such as Remote Speaker Microphones (RSMs) and earpieces.

Carry cases come in a variety of material choices. Hard leather, soft leather, and nylon carry cases are available to help you match the look and feel of your team outfits. Carry cases are usually connected to the user's clothing via a clip or belt loop.

BELT CLIP

Belt clips provide a way to hook radios onto a wearer's clothing, primarily on the belt. Belt clips allow users to carry their radios while also providing the option to quickly remove the radio during their daily duties.

BELT LOOP

Belt loops are a way that carry cases can be connected to the wearer. With a belt loop, the wearer's belt can be threaded through the loop to provide a strong connection that cannot be disconnected without removing the belt.

CHEST PACK

Chest packs provide a carry solution for a user's radio as well as other equipment that might be required. All chest packs sold by Motorola provide additional pockets and attachment points for secure storage. Some chest packs come with break-a-way straps, ensuring users cannot become snagged or dragged along by their storage solution.
