

OFFENDER TRACKING

TRACK CRITICAL INFORMATION ON VARIOUS TYPES OF OFFENDERS

DETAILED OFFENDER RECORDS

The Offender Tracking module enables users to create and manage records of offenders in their agency's jurisdiction, including registered sex offenders and those with histories of drug- or gang-related activity or domestic violence. Users can enter information on incidents including offense, conviction, and victim information. The module also enables agencies to track required Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act (SORNA) information, including sex offenders' risk levels, any professional licenses they hold, the status of their required check-ins, and their registration renewal dates. For offenders associated with gang activity, personnel can specify the gang name and the offender's role within it. Agency personnel can also use the module to keep a record of which offenders are no longer being tracked because they moved or their offender status changed.

NAME RECORD ALERTS

This module allows users to conveniently enter and associate critical information about offenders to name records. Once associated, this information is visible whenever a search is performed on any other record throughout the Spillman Flex system that is associated with those name records. For example, if a user retrieves a vehicle record that is associated with a sex offender name record, an alert specifying the offender type will appear in a blue text box on the vehicle record.

POWERFUL REPORTING CAPABILITIES

Agency personnel can track the different types of offenders in their jurisdiction using Flex's reporting capabilities. The Offender Tracking module allows users to run reports that track offenses associated with an offender, create a log of required activities on sex offenders, create statistical reports on the various types of offenders in their agency's jurisdiction, and regularly run reports on overdue sex offender renewals. The module also enables users to quickly create community and law enforcement notifications to make community members within the jurisdiction aware of offender activity.

SCHEDULING ABILITY

The Offender Tracking module helps users assign and schedule SORNA-required phone calls and visits with sex offenders. The module can record sex offender registration renewals and schedule future renewals based on the offender's risk level and state requirements. Agency personnel can then run overdue renewal reports on a regular basis. This module also records activities like officer contact with an offender, follow-up visits, phone calls, and notifications to residents when sex offenders move into their community.

LOCATION TRACKING

Agencies can use this module to easily track an offender's location in relation to sensitive places like parks and schools. Using the radius search, agency personnel can quickly see a list of vulnerable locations within a designated distance of where a sex offender works, lives, or goes to school. Users will also be able to associate offenders with multiple addresses and vehicles, giving a comprehensive view of locations they may be associated with. For example, a drug offender may work five miles from home and drive a car registered in their name. They may also frequently stay at a parent's house and use the parent's car to run errands. This module simplifies the process of tracking this information.

1. Users can view warning, critical notice, and offender alerts associated with an offender's name record.
2. The Offender Tracking module allows users to record SORNA-required registration information including the identification number for each offender, what agency is responsible for the record, risk level, registration end dates, additional IDs, and whether they must register as an offender for life.
3. This module allows agencies to track whether a sex offender is compliant with requirements and if the offender is currently registered. If the agency is no longer tracking an offender's registration, users can also note the reason why tracking ceased.
4. Users can enter detailed information on activities for the various types of offenders, including registrations, renewals, community notifications, and follow-up meetings.

TOTAL SOFTWARE INTEGRATION

Spillman Flex's Integrated Hub™ is an open, centralized database where all agency information is entered, stored, and extracted in real time, providing total software integration. This allows users to enter data once and have it automatically shared among related modules. Agencies using this module can optimize their system and enhance productivity through total integration with other Flex modules.
