This is an unprecedented moment in our history. With the COVID-19 outbreak threatening our global health, frontline responders are called to act now more than ever, joining together to fight the spread of this disease. Amid this global crisis, Motorola Solutions is committed to supporting the critical communications, safety and security needs of our public safety customers.

Improve your response by enabling existing features of the technology you already own. With CommandCentral Community, empower your community to share valuable COVID-19 information through collaborative applications that inspire partnership so you create a safer city, together. Limiting exposure and social distancing is a key element to limiting the spread of this pandemic. Not all public safety services require in-person service, including crime reporting.
Empower citizens to anonymously share information with a quick and simple web submission form. For example, add new crime types specifically for COVID-19.

Citizens can more easily find and explore data associated with COVID-19 on their local police department web page. For example, customers can use their agency page to publish local information about who to contact and what to look for. This is beneficial to an agency for two reasons:

- Minimize in-person contact
- Reduce non-emergency calls

Motorola Solutions builds software for mission-critical environments where every second matters. CommandCentral software suite puts your information to better use, improves safety for your teams and restores your focus on the communities you serve. Backed by a trusted, 90-year veteran with proven public safety leadership, our suite is transforming the public safety experience.
