WHAT WILL HAPPEN IN THE DISTRIBUTION?

We will distribute to the holders of our common stock, including holders of restricted stock units and deferred stock units our interest in Freescale Semiconductor comprising 269,978,659 shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock in total. After the spin-off, we will no longer own any shares of Freescale Semiconductor and Freescale Semiconductor will be a fully independent, publicly traded company.

WHAT WILL I RECEIVE IN THE DISTRIBUTION?

You will receive approximately .11 of a share of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock for each share of Motorola common stock, restricted stock unit and deferred stock unit you own as of 5:00 p.m. EDT on November 26, 2004 (the record date for the distribution). The exact distribution ratio will be set on the record date. The distribution will be made on December 2, 2004 (the distribution date).

You will receive whole and fractional shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock, unless the number of shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock you are entitled to receive is less than one.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I AM ONLY ENTITLED TO RECEIVE LESS THAN ONE SHARE OF FREESCALE CLASS B COMMON STOCK?

If you are entitled to receive less than one share of Freescale Semiconductor Class B Common stock, the transfer and disbursing agent will aggregate your fractional shares with the fractional shares of other shareholders and sell them through an independent agent in the open market. Instead of receiving such fractional shares, you will receive a check representing your pro rata share of the net proceeds received in such sales approximately two weeks after the December 2, 2004 distribution date.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I SELL MY MOTOROLA COMMON STOCK BEFORE THE DISTRIBUTION DATE?

You will also be selling your right to the shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock that would have been distributed to you pursuant to the distribution. You are encouraged to consult with your financial advisors regarding the specific implications of selling Motorola common stock before the distribution date.

WHAT DO I HAVE TO DO TO RECEIVE MY SHARES OF FREESCALE SEMICONDUCTOR CLASS B COMMON STOCK?

Nothing. On the distribution date, Mellon Investor Services, the transfer and disbursing agent, will cause the shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock to which you are entitled to be registered in your name or in the "street name" of your bank or brokerage firm.

WHEN WILL I RECEIVE MY SHARES OF FREESCALE SEMICONDUCTOR CLASS B COMMON STOCK?

Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock will be issued as uncertificated shares registered in book-entry form through the direct registration system. No certificates representing your shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock will be mailed. Under the direct registration system, instead of receiving stock certificates, you will receive a distribution statement reflecting your ownership interest in shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock. The Freescale Semiconductor transfer agent and registrar will begin mailing distribution statements reflecting your ownership of whole and fractional shares promptly after the distribution date. When you receive your first account statement, you will receive information explaining the direct registration system and detailing the various options of this form of ownership.

If at any time you want to receive a physical certificate evidencing your whole shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock, you may do so by contacting the Freescale Semiconductor transfer agent and registrar. However, no physical certificates will be issued for any of your fractional shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock. Such fractional shares must be maintained in book-entry form through the direct registration system.

WHAT IF I HOLD MY SHARES OF MOTOROLA COMMON STOCK THROUGH MY BROKER, BANK OR OTHER NOMINEE?

If you hold your shares of Motorola common stock through a broker, bank or other nominee, you are probably not a registered holder of Motorola common stock and your receipt of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock depends on your arrangements with the nominee that holds your shares of Motorola common stock for you. We anticipate that nominees generally will credit their customers' accounts within three to eight business days after the distribution. We encourage you to contact your broker, bank or other nominee if you have any questions regarding the mechanics of having your shares of Freescale Semiconductor Class B common stock posted to your account.

HOW WILL FREESCALE CLASS B COMMON STOCK TRADE?
